Emily Shoji
QA Automation Developer

Email: emily.shoji@gmail.com
Portfolio: https://itsemshoji.github.io/
Linkedin: https://www.linkedin.com/in/emily-shoji/

Experienced QA Automation Developer with previous CS experience and a growing interest in the world of design and human-computer interaction.

Employment

Accenture
Los Angeles, CA
08-2020 - Present

Packaged App Development Analyst
QA Analyst 4

- As testing lead, work with Product owners, Designers and Developers to finalize Acceptance Criteria and requirements for each new feature, including the migration from Pexip to Zoom for Kaiser Video Visits, and the development of an Integrated app for adding video and audio interpreters to appointments
- Design and write automation test plans for each story's future testing
- Test features using Manual and Automated methods before delivering to the System Integration team
- Assist in Story planning and IT planning 4 times per year to decide the 3 months of development and testing plans Present demos to stakeholders, users and product owners after each development & testing iteration
- Worked closely with developers to ensure that all bugs were properly addressed and resolved, and made sure all bugs and defects were properly documented in Jira
- Presented demos to stakeholders and product owners bi-weekly on work that has been completed and tested each iteration
- As QA Automation analyst, Work on creating 2-5 new automated test cases per day, as well as updating and optimizing past test cases
- Train new teammates on best practices and how to use our tools like Java, Selenium, Appium, SauceLabs and Perfecto for development of test cases

Education

Accenture
Los Angeles, CA
-2015-2019

Bachelors of Science, Computer Science
Minor - Pure Mathematics

- Association of Computing Machinery, Member 2015-2019
- LMU Computer Science Teaching Assistant 2018-2019
- LMU Children's Center Teaching Assistant 2016-2017

Areas of Expertise

Java Programming Language	Python Programming Language	Javascript
Appium	SauceLabs	HTML & CSS	Perfecto Cloud Devices
Selenium	Figma	Jira	Git

Other Experience

Python Instructor
Remote

The Coding School
08-2019-03-2020

Google CSSI Extension Teaching Assistant
Los Angeles, CA

Loyola Marymount University
08-2017-08-2018